Love Received

When you are busy doing experiments, writing papers, and CALLING THE SUPPLIER, what could be better than receiving love from your dearest friend who is there for you 24-7?

(The one on the phone was me calling the supplier who hasn't sent my kit in 3 months!)

Sunset at Airlie Beach

I like travelling in Australia. There are so many places to go to. This is a photo from Airlie Beach in Queensland. I was having dinner with my friends and relaxing, and this beautiful sunset, the colour of the cloud and sky, the peaceful water and mountain in the shade captured me.

Sea Birds

I always enjoy taking my camera and just wandering on the street. Rather than going from one destination to another, you are slowed down and paying more attention to the life of other people. This is a photo I took in Tamarama Beach. The surfers look like birds in the sky.
